Rights Fight to Be Taken Into Schools

By AL DOPKING

NOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Southern governors have chosen the class room itself for a new battleground over segregation and states rights.

They adopted a resolution in their closing session of their conference Wednesday calling for the teaching of the Constitution and its principles in the schools to counter federal invasion of states rights.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond of Virginia, retiring conference chairman, brought up the almost "taboo" conference subject. He called on David J. Mays of Richmond, chairman of the Virginia Commission on Constitutional Government.

Mays told the governors that education was the only "dignified" way to fight states rights.

He said Virginia taught constitutional law in its grade and high schools to "black and white alike."

Conference officials said it was the first time integration had been brought up at the conference since the Little Rock controversy in 1957. Then the conference named a committee to confer with Gov. Earl E. Faubus and President Eisenhower on the possibility of withdrawing federal troops from the Central High School there.

Both Almond and Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina said the educational program should be carried on at a national level.

Hodges said states rights was a matter of concern for all states.

The governors elected Gov. Dan Claitor of Texas as their new chairman and Gov. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia as vice chairman. They decided to meet in Tennessee next year, probably at Gallatin.

Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi said the way to curb "irresponsible and revolutionary decisions" of the Supreme Court was to crystallize public opinion. Then he said Congress would stop it.

Daniel, in accepting his post, said that if the governors stood together they could influence Congress to change Supreme Court decisions just as they had done in insurance, tidelands and other matters.

Supporting Sen. John F. Kennedy for president spent a lot of their time at news conferences whipping up enthusiasm for their candidate.

But a survey of the governors indicated Vice President Richard M. Nixon has a chance of carrying 11 of 15 southern and border states in the November election.

States where Nixon was given a chance were Florida, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and West Virginia.

Only Alabama, Arkansas and Georgia were regarded by their Democratic governors as completely safe for Kennedy. Barnett is trying to get Mississippi to name eight unpledged electors in hopes that a close election might be thrown into the House of Representatives where each state would have only one vote.

The governors, in a resolution, called on Congress and the administration to re-examine its foreign trade policies. Daniel, chairman of a committee on foreign imports, told the governors that the oil and textile industries had suffered heavily from excessive imports.

Captain Injured at L. R. Fire

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A fire captain was seriously injured Wednesday when he fell through the roof of a burning building.

Capt. F. A. (Gus) Wynn suffered burns, but crawled from the flames at the Capital Cycle & Equipment Co. His condition was described as satisfactory at a hospital here.

A spark which ignited the gasoline tank of a motor was blamed for the fire, which heavily damaged the building.

Suggests a Bolt Would Help South

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi Wednesday night urged a bolt of the Democratic party as a way for the South to regain political influence.

Barnett, a staunch segregationist, told 273 persons attending a dinner of the Capital Citizens Council that "the only way we can win this fight is to defeat the enemy—to destroy them before they destroy us."

Should southern states stick together with unpledged electors, Barnett said, "It's entirely possible that the southern candidate would be elected president."

"This could occur," he said, if southern states used their free electors as the balance of power in an electoral college contest between the Democratic and Republican parties.

Should those parties refuse to grant concessions to the South in exchange for electoral votes, the election could be thrown into the House of Representatives, where each state would have one vote—thus giving the South the upper hand, Barnett said.

"As long as both political parties can ignore the feelings of the South and continue unchallenged in their quest for the votes of racial minority groups in the big northern cities, the South will have very little political influence," Barnett said.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, making his first appearance at a Citizens Council function, introduced Barnett as a man "with perhaps greater courage than any of the rest of us who are governors of states."

But Faubus said afterward that he had not changed his stand in the presidential election. He has given token support to Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, and has said he is not a presidential candidate, although he was nominated by the National States Rights party, in Arkansas, that party is campaigning as unpledged electors.

Barnett made a number of references to Little Rock's integration crisis, in which Faubus played a key role.

"Little Rock has the distinction of being the first American city to suffer martyrdom during Reconstruction II," he said. He added that "Little Rock marked the turning point against forcible integration of the races. Thanks to the lesson of Little Rock, federal troops will never again be used to force integration upon an unwilling and determined people."

President Eisenhower sent paratroopers to enforce court-ordered integration of Little Rock Central High School after Faubus first called out National Guardsmen to block the entrance of Negroes and violence flared.

Barnett hailed Faubus as a man whose "courage won him a place among the 10 most famous men in America today." He added that "the people of the South are looking to Gov. Faubus for leadership."

Most of Barnett's speech was devoted to castigating "left-wing" Democrats and liberals and "party loyalists" who insist that the South must remain in the Democratic party. He called the campaign for unpledged electors a "great crusade for principle."

Tigers Go to Texarkana Friday Night

The Yenger Tigers will journey to Texarkana, Texas to face the Dumbor Buffaloes in a non-conference tilt tomorrow night.

In the last meeting Yenger was victorious by 2 touchdowns. However, the Buffs have improved steadily over last year.

In previous games this season the Tigers defeated Camden 6-2, while losing to Pine Bluff's Merrell 14-6. Regular practices have been hindered somewhat due to colds among some of the players.

Board Delays on Davis Until Complete Audit

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Lawrence A. Davis will continue as president of Arkansas AM&N College here pending a complete audit ordered by the board of trustees of the Negro school.

The board, which earlier had asked Davis to resign, issued a statement after a day-long meeting Wednesday saying that Davis would remain in office until the results of the independent audit were known.

The resignation was requested on the basis of alleged irregularities in handling of a scholarship fund turned up by a preliminary state audit.

Davis, who denied any wrongdoing, welcomed the audit.

"I'll say let it fall," he said. "If Lawrence Davis goes and it's for the school, then I'm ready to go."

Earlier in the meeting he had read a statement saying that he would not resign, but would accept dismissal without a fight if the board wanted to fire him. He indicated he expected to be dismissed.

The board's statement said it "voted unanimously to invite unbiased educators to survey the academic status of the college" and also to hire a certified public accountant to make an audit and submit recommendations to the board.

"Circumstances have arisen which make it mandatory that the board ask for a complete audit to determine the academic, moral and financial status of the college," the statement said.

It did not say what these circumstances were but Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, after meeting with the board in executive session, said the decision on Davis "not only concerns the students, faculty and future of AM&N, it is of vital concern to the other colleges and the university of this state."

Student leaders were displeased with the "moral" term.

"We have done nothing to warrant a moral investigation," said George Kelly, the student government president.

But student leaders said a boycott of classes, called off Wednesday in response to a plea from Davis would not be resumed. And it appeared a "mass exodus" of transfers to predominantly white state colleges would not take place, at least until a final decision on Davis.

Davis, in his statement, said he had known "for some time that this day had to come." He recalled he had tried to resign "to prevent further internal strife and sporadic turmoil," which he blamed on a number of factors, including racial tension, "the restive political scene," intra-college rivalries and fiscal errors.

Davis listed several other "fiscal deviations" which he said could not be justified as good fiscal procedure but "which have been beneficial in the end result."

Davis has been president of AM&N for 10 years.

State Sen. Fred H. Stafford of Marked Tree, chairman of the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee, revealed Wednesday he had received petitions signed by 1,100 persons protesting Davis' ouster. The petitions were circulated by AM&N students.

The Fort Smith chapter of the AM&N Alumni Association also went on record in support of Davis.

Mother of President's Wife Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Elvira Doud, 82, mother of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, died early today in her sleep at her Denver, Colo., home.

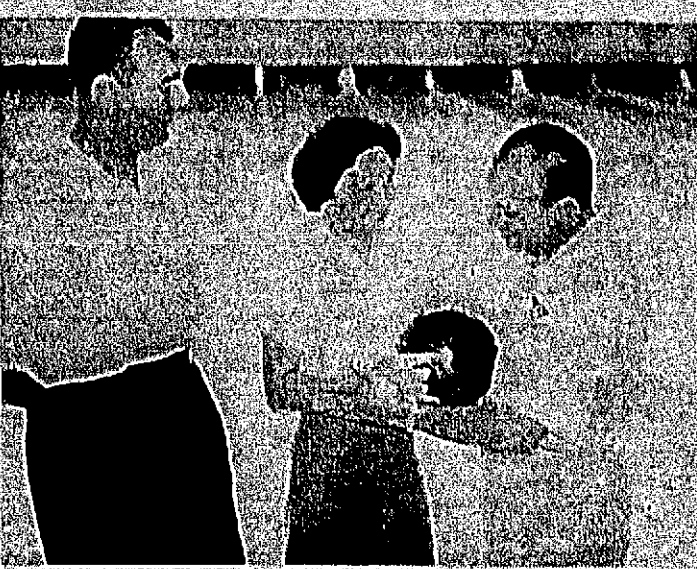

Another daughter, Mrs. G. Gordon Moore, was in Denver with her.

She had been ill for some time. The White House, announcing Mrs. Doud's death, said Mrs. Eisenhower would go to Denver directly.

President Eisenhower, scheduled to speak at a Republican party dinner in Chicago, advanced his departure time to 11 a.m. today. He and Mrs. Eisenhower will leave together aboard the presidential jet plane. The President will stop at Chicago and Mrs. Eisenhower will go on in the plane to Denver.

No plans for the funeral were set immediately. White House press secretary James C. Hager said. Therefore, he added, the President's plans are not firm.

Khrushchev Shouts Crudely During UN Talk by Macmillan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu today formally recognized Col. Joseph Mobutu's council of government commissioners as the provincial government of the Congo.

Kasavubu officially installed the group of 27 college-graduate technicians set up by Mobutu, the army chief of staff, after his bloodless coup d'état two weeks ago against the infant African republic's warring politicians.

Kasavubu's action—if it sticks—reduces the de facto government of the Congo from three to two.

Joseph Ileo, named premier by Kasavubu Sept. 5 to replace Patrice Lumumba, told newsmen that he now recognizes Mobutu's council as a temporary government.

The holdout, Lumumba, remained a virtual prisoner in the premier's official residence, protected by Ghanaian soldiers of the U. N. force.

Kasavubu also announced that U. N. soldiers from Ghana and Guinea must leave Congo territory by Oct. 5 at the latest, echoing a demand made earlier by Mobutu. There was no immediate reaction from the U. N. Command, which has taken the stand that the composition of the U. N. force cannot be dictated by Congo officials.

Mobutu's commissioners made public a photographic copy of a letter from Ghana—President Kwame Nkrumah to Lumumba advising him to work with his political enemies—including Kasavubu—and the United Nations to consolidate his power and then to get rid of them. Nkrumah addressed Lumumba as "My Dear Patrice."

During the day Nixon hinted he would bring "brave Democrats" into his administration if elected. "America cannot afford to do less and use the best we have regardless of which party they belong to."

Again Nixon placed strong emphasis on picturing himself as a man of long experience in government, a man who has faced up to Russia's Nikita S. Khrushchev. At Columbia City, Ind., Democratic vice presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson blarneyed administration for a new economic recession and a price squeeze on farmers.

The Republican veep candidate, Henry Cabot Lodge, invaded Texas, pledging strong leadership if his party wins in November. Lodge discussed foreign affairs in most of his talks.

Over three hundred students have received eye tests during the past two weeks according to the report made to the Junior Auxiliary when it met Wednesday, September 28th in the Community Room of the First National Bank. Tests and retesting of students by the members will continue during the next month.

Continuation of visits to the two local Rest Homes was discussed and additional plans made for the pleasure of these citizens. Under the instruction of Mrs. Laurine Nulan, Christmas decorations will be made and placed in the rooms of the rest homes.

Approximately 84 auxiliary hours were spent by members in the registering of those taking advantage of the free X-rays offered at the X-ray Mobile Unit.

Mr. George Robinson, president, urged all members to participate in the Regional Meeting to be held in West Memphis, October 13th. At this meeting members will attend work-shops where they will receive instructions that will enable them to better serve their communities.

The demand for clothing at the Thrift Shop has increased during the past month. Donations of used clothes and other articles are always appreciated.

Proposal for Arms Talks Irks Soviet Premier

By RELMAN MORIN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan urged the United Nations today to make a new "reasoned" start on a disarmament program.

The Soviet premier leaped to his feet, scowling as the British leader discussed the problem of controls for a "disarmament program."

"We are always in favor of controls of disarmament," Khrushchev shouted in Russian, and the assembly president, Frederick W. Bellard of Ireland, gavelled him down. Macmillan interrupted his speech to remark he wanted a translation of what Khrushchev had said.

A short time before, Macmillan was discussing the blowing of the Paris summit meeting last May. Khrushchev wagged a finger at the speaker and exclaimed: "Don't commit aggression!"

Khrushchev evidently referred to his contention that the American U2 plane incident caused the Paris explosion.

When Macmillan defended the office of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld against a Khrushchev proposal to eliminate it, Khrushchev led his Communist bloc delegations in a new demonstration of table-thumping. The Soviet premier was visibly outraged.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Africa was assured on bill in the U.N. General Assembly today as the Assembly Steering Committee moved to place 30 African issues on the session's bulging agenda.

The 21-nation committee voted in quick succession Wednesday night to schedule Assembly debate on the explosive Congo issue and rival proposals by the United States and the Soviet Union designed to win the friendship of the new African member states.

The committee earlier approved debate on such perennial items as the race situation in South Africa, Algerian independence and a number of trusteeship questions.

With 15 new African nations already taken into the U.N. fold and Nigeria slated to become the 90th member, probably next week, 25 African members will have a voice in the debates.

After a surprise turnabout by the West, the committee decided in 10 minutes Wednesday night to call for debate on the Congo question over which it had wrangled for more than an hour the previous night.

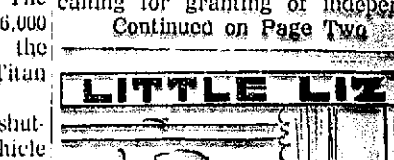

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth said he was not opposing the Congo's inclusion in the agenda since the Soviet Union had agreed to a suggestion by Ceylon to modify the title of the item to "The Situation in the Republic of the Congo." Previously it had carried the Soviet title "Threat to the Political Independence and Territorial Integrity of the Republic of the Congo," and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin in introducing it had accused Belgium of aggression and continued colonialism.

A new East-West clash was foreseen in the Assembly when the rival U.S. and Soviet items on Africa reach the floor.

The U.S. proposal puts before the Assembly the five-point program for aid to the new countries of Africa outlined by President Eisenhower in his Assembly speech last Thursday.

It would counter a Soviet item calling for granting of independence.

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government, after holding two Americans wanted on murder charges in the British Bahamas for five months, has finally agreed to their extradition.

The men are accused of murdering Capt. Angus Boatwright, 65, of Key West, Fla., and pirating his fishing boat, Muriel III.

The pair and Table's wife, Barbara, 18, ran aground in a stolen boat on Bow Key in the Bahamas last April. The Muriel's mate said that when Boatwright responded to their distress signal, Sees swam out and shot the captain. Sees and Table then made off with the Muriel leaving the yacht's mate and four passengers and Mrs. Table marooned on the island.

Cuban navy men captured Sees and Table on a small island 200 miles east of Havana on April 25.

Miss Virginia Inez Thornton Weds Gerald Penn Duke

Miss Virginia Inez Thornton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orbey Thornton of Huntington Park, Calif., and Gerald Penn Duke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Duke of Hope, were united in holy matrimony on September 24 at the Wayfarer's Chapel in Portunus Bend, Calif.

Greenery decorated the glass chapel, where the Rev. David P. Johnson officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon over satin. The full skirt was floor-length. The dress had a high neckline and short sleeves. With it the bride wore elbow-length gloves, and he only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. Her short veil fell from a pearl coronet, and she carried a small cascade bouquet.

Both the maid of honor, Miss Carol Adams, and the bridesmaid, Miss Donna Garrett, wore ballerina-length dresses of pink chiffon over taffeta. They had short matching veils and carried nosegays of flowers in pastel hues.

Jesse Duke served his brother as best man. Ushers were Charles Thornton and Howard Thornton, brothers of the bride. All wedding attendants make their homes in Huntington Park, Calif.

After the ceremony Mrs. Jesse Duke had charge of the bride's book in the favor of the chapel. A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

For travel the bride wore a blue suit with blending accessories and pinned a corsage of her wedding flowers at her shoulder. When they return from a short trip, the couple will be at home in Southgate, Calif.

Coming and Going

Little Girl Big Decision

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen: I'm 11 and a half years old and have a problem that is serious to me. When I was three and my brother 18 months, my father went overseas to Germany for three years. While there he met another girl and asked my mother for a divorce. When he came home he divorced my mother and married the other girl. My mother was so broken up she sold everything and moved us all to California. Now Mother is married again and has a baby boy two years old. Everything was fine until last week.

My father had the Red Cross call my mother and find out if my brother and I were all right. He never tried to get in touch with us before. Every time my mother would take us to visit him he would start trouble so my mother stopped taking us.

My problem is, should I write him, or let things stand the way they are? My mother and stepfather are good to us. They don't drink or smoke and my stepfather has never spanked us. My father is still in the Army and has a little girl by his new wife. J.

Dear J: Let matters remain as daughter of Los Angeles, Calif., are visiting in Hope with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duke.

they are. Your mother and stepfather seem from your description to be very nice people. Show your gratitude for love and protection. Be loyal.

Dear Helen:

I've never missed a general of primary election and hope to vote this year. A British subject for 24 years and American citizen for 68 years. Was raised in Victoria's School for Soldiers and Sailors Orphans. My father, Captain Chapman, was lost on H.M. Majesty's S.S. Captain. His name is in the Memorial Room at St. Paul's Cathedral, London, along with over 500 sailors who went down on their ship in 1910. My mother was left with four little ones. I went to school at age of seven, out at 14. Please excuse writing. —William R. Chapman, Warren, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Chapman: Good for you! And may you pass the century mark. I wish every American had your conscience about voting.

Dear Helen:

I am 41 and should know better. I married my second husband in 1945. We had two children, also had two children by a previous marriage. Their father came to see them. It made my second husband mad. He got a divorce. In two weeks he was

Archery Season on Deer Set

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service regional office here Tuesday announced final dates for a special archery season on deer in the White River Refuge in Arkansas will be Oct. 16-29.

That's four days less than the originally announced dates. Arkansas Game and Fish Commission officials in Little Rock speculated that it was made to allow a lapse of time after the refuge's seven-day squirrel season which begins Saturday and ends Oct. 7.

back. Here is the hitch. We never remarried, but have been living together as man and wife 11 years. We even bought property. When we had a misunderstanding, what States uphold common-law marriage? —E.

Dear E: The laws on this question are as changeable as a chameleon. Check with the attorney-general in your State Capital. The questions you put to me.

Send your problem to Helen Worden ERSKINE. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful letters available. Write for "Praise or Blame."

LOOK WHAT DODGE HAS DONE FOR COMPACTS

The name, Lancer: one hardtop; one 2-door sedan; two 4-door sedans; two wagons. What kind of cars are they? This kind: two feet shorter; many pounds leaner; a couple of hundred dollars less in cost than usual automobiles. Lancer welcomes a family of six lavishly. Has plenty of trunk. Its fully-unitized body is very quiet, very tough. Lancer is also mannerly. It corners decisively, takes a well scarred road with aplomb. Parks obediently. More reasons to buy? Read on. The interiors are rich, but simple. Shed soil, wear well, feel good. The engine is highly spirited, but extremely light on regular gasoline. One more thing, Lancer is built by Dodge. Our name is on it. This means Lancer will stay nice and shiny. How so? The body is rustproofed by an exclusive Chrysler Corporation process. Enough talk, Meet Lancer at your Dodge Dealer. Now,

Brigitte Bardot Tries Suicide

MENTON, France (AP)—Film star Brigitte Bardot, found in a coma after trying suicide on her 28th birthday, was recovering today in a nerve hospital.

The St. Francis Neurological Clinic in Nice said she slashed her wrists with a razor blade and took an overdose of sleeping tablets. It described her condition as "rather alarming" when brought in.

"Now she is much better and I think should make a fairly rapid recovery," said the clinic director, Dr. Jacques Namin. "But she is suffering from a very acute nervous depression and we have had to isolate her completely."

421st Homer Signals End for Ted Williams

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Big Guy is gone. After 19 seasons with the Boston Red Sox—as the kid who set the American League rookie record with 31 home runs in 1959, as the Splendid Splinter who won the first of six bat titles with a .400 average in 1941, as the slugger who has hit more home runs than any other except Babe Ruth and Jimmy Fox—Ted Williams decided "there's nothing more I can do," and called it quits Wednesday.

Before his decision was announced, Williams hit his 521st home run, a 450-foot shot over the center field bullpen at Boston's Fenway Park in his final at bat as the Red Sox beat Baltimore 6-4.

It was Williams' 29th home run of the year and his only hit in three trips, giving him a .316 average for 113 games this season, and a .344 lifetime mark.

The possible loss of Boston Howard's right hand in a first-inning mishap as the Yankees whipped Washington 6-3 and tied the AL home run record while running up their 12th straight success.

The ball, off the bat of Zorro Versalles, dislocated the ring finger on Howard's right hand in a first-inning mishap as the Yankees whipped Washington 6-3 and tied the AL home run record while running up their 12th straight success.

Kansas City made it three straight over Cleveland, winning 4-0 behind Ned Garver's three-hit pitching in the only other AL game scheduled.

In the National League, Pittsburgh's champion Pirates were idle while Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 9-3, Los Angeles beat St. Louis 4-2 and Chicago Cubs trounced San Francisco 6-3.

The Yankees tied the home run mark of 190 they set in 1950 by hitting three off Washington southpaw Chuck Stobbs (12-7). Mickey Mantle blasted a pair, taking over the league lead from teammate Roger Maris with 40. Clete Boyer hit his 14th.

Whitey Ford, the little lefty who may be Manager Casey Stengel's opening day pitcher in the World Series at Pittsburgh next Wednesday, won his 12th in a five-inning time up. Ford, who has lost nine, gave up five hits and one earned run. Bob Allison's 15th homer. He didn't walk a man, struck out three.

Jim Coates, back with the Yankees after treatment for a kidney ailment, and Luis Arroyo mopped up. Each allowed just one hit as the Yankees wrapped up the longest winning streak in the AL since they won 13 in 1954.

Reliever Mike Fornieles (10-5) was the winner for Boston in his 70th appearance of the year, breaking the AL record of 69 set by Ellis Kinder of the Red Sox in 1953. Jack Fisher (12-11), who gave up Williams' homer, was the loser when Boston broke a 4-4 tie on Billy Klaus' error in the ninth.

Rookie Leo Posada hit his first major league home run as the A's backed Garver (4-9) with eight hits and beat Jim Perry (17-10).

3-Way Race for National Batting Title

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's Dick Groat, .3250, Norm Larker, .3248 and Willie Mays, .3203 with four games left in the race for the National League batting crown.

Groat, the Pittsburgh shortstop who hasn't been at bat since Sept. 6 because of a broken wrist, expects to return in a line up for the World Series as the pennant-winning Pirates play a three-game finale against Milwaukee this weekend. The Bucs were idle Wednesday.

Larker was 1-for-3 as Los Angeles defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2 Wednesday night. The Dodger first baseman doubled and scored their first run, then knocked in the clincher with a sacrifice fly.

Mays, the San Francisco center fielder who is the only past batting champ among the three contenders, was hitless in four trips and lost two points as the Chicago Cubs leaked the fifth-place Giants with a 6-3 decision. Milwaukee whipped Philadelphia 5-3, with Lew Burdette winning his 16th, in the only other game scheduled in the NL. That gave the Braves a 1½ game edge over St. Louis in their race for second-place money.

In the American League, the champion New York Yankees won their 12th in a row with a 3-0 decision at Washington, but catcher Elston Howard suffered a possible broken finger and may be lost for the World Series. Boston beat Baltimore 6-4—with Ted Williams hitting a home run in his last at bat and then announcing his immediate retirement. Kansas City rapped Cleveland 4-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Ned Garver.

Larker, who has four games left, one more than Groat and Mays, doubled in the second inning and scored on Frank Howard's single. His sacrifice fly scored winning pitcher Johnny Podres (14-12) in the fifth inning and beat Bob Miller (4-3).

Mauri Willis hung up his 40th stolen base after reaching first on an error in the sixth inning. That's the top stolen base total in the NL since Max Carey swiped 49 for Pittsburgh in 1924.

Ed Mathews hit his 30th home run, and Del Crandall drove in three runs as the Braves lagged loser Jim Owens (4-14) and four relievers for 14 hits.

A two-run homer by Sammy Taylor did it for the Cubs as they came from behind with three runs in the sixth off Jack Sanford (12-14). Bob Anderson (9-11) was the winner.

Willing to Meet Ike, Mr. K Says

By RELMAN MORIN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev went down to defeat today on two of his major objectives in the United Nations—the admission of Red China and an immediate, full-scale debate on "aggression in the Congo."

His efforts to undermine Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld also appeared to be winning little or no support.

In wrangling that went on until early morning the 21-nation steering committee set back Khrushchev in two critical actions.

First, the committee recommended for the 10th year not to put the question of seating Communist China on "this year's agenda for the General Assembly. The Assembly still must ratify the action, but ratification seemed assured. Second, the committee stopped a Soviet drive to put a debate on events in the Congo before the Assembly. The Soviet proposal contained the phrase, "aggression in the Congo and the creation there of a breeding ground of tension."

This was one of the main grounds on which Khrushchev had assaulted Hammarskjöld. He used the word "stooges" and accused the secretary-general of abusing his office—to the advantage of the west—in the way he handled the Congo crisis.

Khrushchev's powerhouse drive to marshal neutralist support against Hammarskjöld apparently has failed, a U.S. spokesman said.

Andrew Berding, assistant secretary of state, said at the end of President Eisenhower's stay in New York: "We feel that the great majority of the African nations, whether the older members or new members of the United Nations, are in strong support of Mr. Hammarskjöld."

The steering committee voted 12-7, with one abstention, not to put the seating of Red China on

Economy of U. S. Worries Everyone

By SAM BAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Finding a home for just what's happening to business and finance these days is blowing up almost as big a debate as is interpretation of the statistics.

It isn't just an American game. Europeans are busy trying to pin down and name the state of the American economy. This pops up often at the meeting of the Inter-the agenda this year. The United States made the resolution to solve the question.

Supporting the U.S. proposal were Britain, France, Nationalist China, the United States, Panama, Italy, Costa Rica, Haiti, Pakistan, Canada, Venezuela, and Japan. Voting against it were the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia, Ceylon, Iraq and Sudan. Libya abstained.

national Monetary Fund this week in Washington. One school hangs the tag of recession on the current situation here. Another says it's no such thing, just another rolling adjustment.

These are but two of a long list of new thinkers which Americans have tried out since the war to denote whether times are good or bad.

A few still stick to the old-fashioned boom or bust. But many hold that the days of the real boom and real bust have been isolated out of any chance of return. Even a very bad day on the stock exchange doesn't shake their conviction.

Here are some of the terms that have cropped up now and then since the war to add zest—or perhaps confusion—to the art of naming economic trends.

Rolling adjustment. This description of today's happenings isn't new either. It's been used several times since the war. It means that industries tend to have their own depressions at different times—some laid low while others are still climbing. Hence the total economy escapes anything like the 1930s.

Slide-wise on a high plateau. Some still think that's what's going on today. It means the economy climbed up, stopped to take a breather, and at the moment isn't going either up or down for sure.

Controlled cycle. This is the theory that the old days of big upswings followed by inevitable downswings have been made obsolete. In other words we won't let a real big cycle happen anymore.

Built-in stabilizers or cushions. These are the cycle controls. They include unemployment benefits, regulations against too much speculation, turning light money on or off, long term wage contracts, the government's monitoring of the economy.

Kennedy-Johnson Ticket Manager

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A close associate of Gov. Orval Faubus, Dan D. Stephens of Clinton, will manage the campaign for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in Arkansas.

are old terms that these days are given added meanings. Instead of meaning the expansion or contraction of the money supply, through wise or unwise government policies as they once did, they now are widely used to describe trends in the cost of living or in general business activity. But when the last recession didn't come up with the expected drop in consumer prices, two new concepts were brought forward.

Cost-push and administered prices. Cost-push means that even if demand falls off, prices stay high because inflexible production costs keep pushing them up. The contrary theory is that prices are high in many cases because of long term wage contracts, they are administered. That is, companies within a given industry regulate supply so that prices won't drop.

Chicken, Ham Beef Good Weekend Buy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sturdy autumn appetites are the targets of weekend specials offered by supermarkets and neighborhood stores this week.

Chicken, beef and ham top the bargain list.

While high egg prices are causing farmers to hold onto their older birds, frying chickens are featured in many sections of the country.

A great variety of beef cuts is available with prices of sirloin steaks generally down and of ribs and brisket generally up from last week. The specials include steaks, chicken, crosscut, pork ribs and poultry roast, and brisket.

Fish specials include halibut, shrimp and the lesser known borges.

Large white eggs hit a two-year high in the New York metropolitan area, rising two cents from last week to 70 cents a dozen. Blackberry prices increased two to four cents a dozen.

New attractions in vegetables still are reaching the market. Among them are cauliflower and Brussels sprouts from California, squash from Florida and the Carolinas, cucumbers from Virginia and the Carolinas and lettuce and pumpkins from New Jersey.

Fall apples also are appearing. Fresh vegetables continue in heavy supply with best buys being cabbage, celery, cauliflower, corn, medium yellow onions, zucchini and New Jersey potatoes, rutabagas and watercress.

Best buys in fruits are McIntosh apples, honeydews, limes and grapes, pears, peaches and California lemons and limes are also a good buy.

New Princess Phone comes to town

I'd like to tell you about a brand-new telephone. It's called the Princess phone, and it is being introduced to the public for the very first time this month in towns we serve throughout the state.

How do you like the new look? Notice the oval base and smart styling. You might say the Princess looks regal.

I feel sure a number of you will want one or more of these lovely little phones. I'd like to tell you about the Princess' main features, because it's not very often I get a chance to write about something as exciting as this new phone.

First, it's little. Only 8 1/2 inches long and 3 1/2 inches high and wide, the Princess phone takes so little space on a living room table, a kitchen counter or bedside table.

Next, the Princess is lovely, in styling and in colors. It comes in the most lighthearted pastels I've seen in a long time—blue, beige, pink and turquoise—plus white.

Finally, the Princess phone lights up. The dial glows softly at night, lights up brightly when you lift the receiver.

Why not be among the first here to order a new Princess phone? Just call us at the telephone business office or see your telephone serviceman.

Call by number... it's twice as fast

Living Facts Around Areas of Arkansas

By BOB MARING
Associated Press Staff Writer

Until Aug. 25, William Potter was managing editor of the Frankfort (Ind.) Morning Times. Now he's an adopted Arkansan.

In a way, though, "Bill" Potter has been an Arkansan for a number of years. In his daily column in the Times, "Pottering Around," he frequently regaled Arkansans with the virtues of the Lake Norfork-Bull Shoals area.

"We have no way of knowing how many 'flossers' came here (Mountain Home) for vacations because of our Chamber of Commerce propaganda," Potter wrote. "We do know that in the past two years we even became impressed without our own writing and bought lakeside property here and that we know of one $15,000 farm, a $30,000 property and some smaller lakeside lots sold in this area because of our Indiana column."

He decided to practice what he had been preaching and bought a motel in Mountain Home.

And no sooner had he and his wife opened up when a couple (their first patrons) appeared who seemed to know them.

Well, it turned out that the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, used to live in Frankfort but had moved to Crawfordsville, Ind. But they kept their subscription to the Times and Potter's prose had induced them to try Ozark vacationing.

To cap it all, the Moores also bought a motel and then it turned out that the Moores and the Moores had once lived in that same duplex in Frankfort, though at different times.

Small world, after all.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus has received a compliment of sorts from Jimmy Dean, the rock and roll singer.

Dean, recalling for an interviewer an appearance in Arkansas, remembered that he had had difficulty getting musicians and had to make do with two members of his own group.

"The show was fine," he added, "but I had to follow Faubus and he's a tough guy to follow."

If Postmaster H.M. Lambert of Winthrop, in Little River County, doesn't like the way his new post office is built, he'll have only himself to blame. Lambert got the contract to build the building and lease it to the Post Office De-

Nikita, Tito Agreed on Main Points

By LEWIS GULICK

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, apparently in grumpy mood, met privately today with Yugoslavia's President, Tito, in his heavily guarded Park Avenue residence. The Soviet leader delayed his visit to the United Nations in order to meet with the Yugoslav leader, who, in the past, has refused to bow to Kremlin domination.

Khrushchev warmly greeted Tito on the sidewalk when the Yugoslav marshal arrived. Khrushchev vigorously pumped his arm and wrapped his left arm around Tito's shoulder in a friendly hug. While waiting for Tito, Khrushchev talked briefly to newsmen without any of his usual quips and jokes.

He shrugged aside a question about whether he would meet with President Eisenhower with these words: "Nobody told me that I am to talk to him."

Khrushchev said he did not plan to be on hand to bid goodbye today to Cuba's Fidel Castro because "I have already said goodbye to him."

A newsmen asked if he had any reply to make to charges by Walter Reuther, AFL-CIO Auto Workers' president, that the Russians have pursued anti-Semitic policies.

Khrushchev shook his head and doubly replied via his interpreter: "We don't answer to dog's barking. A reasonable person merely passes by."

Khrushchev all but ignored a question about whether the Soviet Union has shot a man into space yet and returned him successfully. He looked up at the sky and shook his head without comment.

Khrushchev's only gay moment came when he strolled out onto the sidewalk and waved at Hunter College girls who were leaning out of windows in a building across the street to watch him.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home met privately with Khrushchev just before Tito arrived.

A British Foreign Office spokesman subsequently announced that Britain's Prime Minister, Harold Macmillan, would meet with Khrushchev sometime Thursday afternoon at a site not yet determined. The meeting will follow Macmillan's address to the U.N. General Assembly.

Governors See Kennedy as the Winner

By AL DOPKING

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Southern Democratic governors today gave Sen. John F. Kennedy the first round in his television debates with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in their battle for the presidency.

Most of them at the Southern Governors Conference here felt Kennedy had improved his chances of carrying the South by his aggressiveness before the cameras Monday night.

Govs. John Patterson of Alabama and Buford Ellington of Tennessee, both staunch Kennedy supporters, said they thought he was more sure of himself than Nixon.

But Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia, the lone Republican at the conference, said he didn't think either candidate had scored a knockout blow.

Underwood said he thought Nixon was "to polite" to his opponent and that neither seemed to televise to well.

Gov. Ernest P. Hollings of South Carolina agreed it was no knockout blow, although he gave Kennedy the first round.

"Kennedy pressed the fight," he said. "And Nixon acted like the accused."

"It was the first time presidential candidates had met face to face on a television program and the governors agreed that it definitely had set a new pattern for political campaigning."

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas said he thought the TV debates would have a great impact on the voters of the country. Underwood and Patterson both felt the same way, although Underwood said the cameras hadn't exactly given a true picture of either candidate.

"Nixon looked older on TV than had answered the questions more directly than Kennedy, although he was 'more restrained than I felt he should have been.'"

"The Democratic governors all felt Kennedy had been the most forthright."

"I think Kennedy was more sure of himself," Ellington said. "Nixon appeared a little uneasy." Patterson said Nixon simply was faced with "a pretty tough job of defending seven years of Republican administration."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas was the only governor at the conference who sidestepped comment on the debate. He said television debates might become an effective campaign method but was still too early to tell.

Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina said, "Nixon looked like he had been sick. Kennedy spoke forthrightly and kept Nixon on the defensive most of the time."

Patterson said the argument probably was watched by more people than ever had seen a television program before. "Everything I went Monday," he said, "everybody was talking about it. Barbers, taxicab drivers, just anyone I talked to."

While politics wasn't on the official program, it continued to be the main subject wherever the governors gathered.

The governors turned to industrial problems of their states today after devoting the opening session of the conference to conservation. Sam Thompson, chairman of the Mississippi Board of Water Conservation told them the states themselves were to blame for federal encroachment on their water conservation rights.

He said the states simply had failed to spell out a water resources policy.

U. S. Airman Prevents a Disaster

TAZUKE, Japan (AP) — Quick thinking and courage by an American airman were credited today with preventing a disastrous explosion and the possible loss of several airplanes and human lives.

Fire broke out on a gasoline tank truck during the refueling of a KB50 tanker plane at the U. S. Air Base here Monday night, the Air Force said.

Airman S.C. Marvin B. Cotton, Malvern, Ark., sprinted to the truck cab, raced the truck to a safe area and doused the flames with a hand extinguisher before flames arrived. The only damage was scorched paint on the truck.

The action "reflected great courage on the part of Airman Cotton inasmuch as he risked his life, possibly saving the lives of other airmen in the area and several aircraft," said Lt. Franklin K. Russe, Cotton's squadron officer.

The Air Force said that "had the truck or airplane, loaded with high octane and jet fuel exploded, three planes in the immediate area probably would have been destroyed. More than 10,000 gallons of fuel were estimated to be in immediate vicinity."

Cotton's comment: "I did about the only thing I could think of. That is what I have always been told to do."

U of A Asks Increase in Money

IN THE ROCK (AP)—Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, cited five reasons today why the university will need more operating funds in the immediate future.

In an address prepared for delivery to a civic club, Mullins said the university already has taken every possible economy and now must seek additional money.

The university's budget and budgets for all state agencies will be considered next month by the Legislative Council's Budget Committee.

Faculty salaries must be made competitive with those paid elsewhere.

2. Increased enrollment has sent costs spiraling.
3. Much laboratory, educational and research equipment has a high rate of obsolescence and must be replaced.
4. Maintenance funds have been diverted into operating budgets and a new maintenance reserve must be created.

5. New university research programs are needed for development of the state.

Mullins has advocated higher appropriations for the university in a series of speeches about the state.

He has not said specifically how much money he thinks will be needed.

The attack was the heaviest in three months against the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

Governors Agree With Sen. Fulbright

By AL DORRING

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Southern governors agreed today with Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., that Fidel Castro would overstep himself if he tried to take over Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. of Virginia, chairman of the Southern Governors' Conference, said the base was "so vital to our security that we would have no choice except to hold it with force if necessary."

He was joined by several other governors of states on the Atlantic Seaboard.

Sen. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told newsmen in Tokyo he thought the United States would

Screenon to Contest Some Ballot Boxes

DES ARMO, Ark. (AP)—State Sen. Jerry H. Screenon, replying to a suit to have some ballot boxes from his home county thrown out, has alleged voting irregularities in the home county of his opponent.

Screenon apparently was re-nominated in the Aug. 9 Democratic runoff primary over J. T. Gunter of Austin. Gunter filed suit in Prairie Circuit Court to have some Prairie boxes thrown out.

In an answer Tuesday, Screenon repudiated these charges and challenged the validity of some boxes in Lonoke County.

Gunter's home—because of alleged irregularities in handling of returns and some alleged illegal voting, Screenon asked that all the Lonoke boxes be thrown out.

A lawyer's conference is tentatively scheduled for Thursday, with Gunter's attorney planning to ask for a hearing to start Monday.

Gunter apparently had won the nomination until late boxes from Prairie County put Screenon ahead.

2510th Chinese Year

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek led Nationalist China today in observance of the 2510th anniversary of the birth of the revered sage Confucius. Chiang officiated at a memorial service at his headquarters. The day was a national holiday.

resist being pushed out of the base with force, if it came to that. Adm. Arleigh Burke, Chief of Naval Operations previously had said that if Castro tried to take the base over, this country would fight back.

Throughout the three-day conference, southern Democrats have assailed the Eisenhower administration for the way it has handled the Cuban situation.

"We simply couldn't afford to let Castro take Guantanamo over and put Mr. Krushchev in business next door to us," Almond said in an interview.

The Cuban prime minister told the United Nations he was seriously considering taking over the base "within the framework of international law."

Fulbright, attending a conference of the Interparliamentary Union in Tokyo, told newsmen he seriously doubted Castro's ability "to force us out." He said the U.S. would hold the base under its existing treaty.

Two governors at the conference, John Patterson of Alabama, and Price Daniel of Texas, said they felt it was strictly a matter of decision for the federal government and as state heads they should not inject themselves into the controversy.

Governors whose states are nearest Cuba were forthright in discussing Castro's threat.

Farris Bryant, Democratic nominee for governor in Florida, said, "I would like to see our problems with Cuba worked out on a friendly basis. I always like to see things worked out that way. But if it should come to a showdown we would have no alternative. We could not give up the naval base."

Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi minced no words. "Castro's a nut," he said, "We should do whatever is necessary to defend this vital security base, including the use of force."

Gov. S. Ernest Vandiver of Georgia put it this way. "We have a moral and legal obligation to stay there. I am in full agreement with Sen. Fulbright."

At the conference, which closes today with election of officers, Democratic governors have been busy whipping up new enthusiasm about Sen. John F. Kennedy's chances in the South as the Democratic presidential nominee.

Most of them played down the civil rights issue by pointing out that the Republican platform was no better than the Democratic one on that point.

The governors also were busy trying to put to rest as much as possible the religious issue. Gov. Bert T. Combs of Kentucky said he thought it had about "spent its course."

Foreign policy was put at the head of the list by most of the governors, but some, like Combs, gave what they called "the bread and butter issue" of the domestic front top billing.

Today the conference had a report from its freight rate committee headed by Gov. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina.

The report said some inequities in transportation rates had been overcome by the South, but a lot remained to be done.

"The realization of our goal of industrialization of the South and economy demands common carrier transportation facilities at reasonable rates," the report said.

The conference also had a report from its committee to determine the effect of imports on domestic economy. The committee, headed by Daniel, recommended that the conference call on the federal government to protect national security and domestic economy by restricting foreign imports which have disrupted operations of American industries.

Promote Your Candidate With A Campaign Coffee

If we took a vote for coffee, the beverage would surely carry every side. Perhaps that's why Campaign Coffee parties so successfully bring out the voters. The least civic-minded soul can scarcely ignore the aroma of coffee.

Campaign Coffees have been a highly popular way to introduce candidates to the voters ever since coffee was won fame during the 1952 campaign. They are enthusiastically supported by women's political clubs who will gladly help you schedule a coffee in your neighborhood. Incidentally, a survey reports that women outnumbered men at the polls during the two most recent presidential elections, a sure sign that the ladies are doing their suffrage seriously.

Whether you hostess an afternoon or evening gathering, small "in-the-hand" sweets like Jam Filled Cookies are ideal refreshment when accompanied by steaming cups of coffee.

And to insure the success of your coffee party, be sure to keep the coffee brewing and the coffee cups filled.

Jam Filled Cookies

1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg well beaten
2 tablespoons cream
1 tablespoon vanilla
Confectioners' sugar
Raspberry jam and pineapple jam
Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Set aside. Cream shortening and sugar together; beat until light. Add eggs, cream and vanilla; beat well. Stir in dry ingredients until blended. Shape into ball and wrap in waxed paper. Chill 3 hours. Sprinkle pastry board with confectioners' sugar. Divide dough in halves and roll out each half about 3/4 inch thick. Cut one half with doughnut cutter and cut second half with plain round cutter of same diameter. Place all rounds on cookie sheets and bake in moderate oven, 375°, about 8 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove cookies from sheet and cool on rack. Spread plain rounds with jam and top with doughnut shaped rounds. Makes about 2 dozen.

Congo Plans Conference of Leaders

By DAVID MASON

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Col. Joseph Mobutu dispatched 20 of his aides today into the provinces to invite political leaders to a roundtable conference that he hopes will end weeks of government chaos.

Among the scheduled air stops at the Congo's biggest cities is Elisabethville, where Mobutu's mission will try to persuade Moise Tshombe, premier of secessionist Katanga Province, to join the roundtable next week.

Mobutu indicated that if his mission there fails, he himself may go to Elisabethville to talk Tshombe into joining the conference.

The roundtable has the blessing of Premier-designate Joseph Ileo. Ileo was named to head the government by President Joseph Kasavubu after the president fired Premier Patrice Lumumba. Ileo has not yet been approved by Parliament.

Mobutu, 29, the Congo's strong man, has made several efforts recently to achieve a reconciliation with Lumumba, but apparently with little success. Lumumba has been insisting on reconciliation on his terms—namely, retention of his premiership.

The Communist-supported Lumumba refuses to admit he has been fired and still lives grandly in the premier's luxurious riverside residence.

Mother of 2 at 10

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A Yugoslav girl, Biserka Jami-dovic, 10, is the mother of two sons, the magazine Sport and World reported today. The girl ran away from home with Pasaga Osmanovic, 12, when she was 9, the magazine said, and their oldest child is now a year old.

guard, one up and one down the beach.

"What is more dangerous is the little entrance lane with the doctor and his car in; if someone comes in there we are cut off. I thought of Cicco, in the undergrowth, with a couple of old Italian hand grenades. If he threw them at any patrol coming in, they'd chase him into the woods. He could lie low there until the next day."

"And we would hear the explosion on the beach. That little is our weakest point. . . . But, would we get him there? There's not room in the car, is there?"

"Oh, I think so. He's fat, but not so fat as all that."

Luchino hurried through the rain to the club in the Palazzo Borghese. The Principe received him in a private card-room, where Luchino found him pacing up and down rather like a caged lion with his great stock of white hair and his pointed white beard.

"I'm terribly sorry, Luchino, to have disturbed you in such foul weather. Have a drink? Have a chair?"

"I won't have a drink, thank you, Principe."

"It's about my daughter. . . ."

"Has anything happened to Felice?"

"No, not yet. But I am worried about her. You know, her name is linked with that German whose brief case was stolen—I dare say you know it better than I do. Listen to me, young man. I may be well over 60 years of age, but I still have eyes in my head, and ears, too; and I am not yet completely senile. I have known that Felice and you have been in love ever since before Gigorgio Cayo died. Luchino started to speak, but Mont'Alto went on. "Oh, I don't mind. I think you're a fine young man, and your father was one of my dearest friends. But don't you think that, when you suddenly stop telephoning to my daughter and she makes no effort whatsoever to see you, I can draw certain conclusions? Don't you know that my ears are long enough to have heard that you have taken your father's place at the head of Justice and Liberty? And that I know you're now carrying on all sorts of secret goings-on? Of course I know. And I also know perfectly well that if you and my daughter were not involved in the stealing of that brief case she wouldn't have come home to live and you two would still be mooning on the telephone two or three times a day."

"Yes, we were involved."

"Well, now I feel better. At least you've told me the truth. So she's been working with you, has she? I assume you're both in contact with the Allies or there wouldn't have been much use in stealing the brief case. Am I right?"

"Yes."

"Why didn't you ask for my help? I have a little influence here in Rome, and in the Vatican, too."

"I didn't think you'd want to be mixed up in it, Sir."

"Don't you think it's about time you started calling me Saverio?"

(THE STORY: The German high command in Rome is concerned over activities of the American intelligence and the underground. Paolo MacDougal, an American officer, works with the underground.

Chapter X

Tuesday morning Paolo came to Luchino's house further to discuss the failure of the landing and to lay their plans for another attempt. "I can't tell you how sorry I am about that poor youngster," said Paolo.

"I went straight to his house with his brother. His father and mother were wonderful. They lost an older son three years ago in Greece. They only had three children. The hard thing was to explain why they mustn't try to claim his body."

"It's sad. Isn't it? Such a fine boy."

"I told his father before I left that I wouldn't use Giovanni any more, but he said that was neither for him nor for me to decide—the boy himself would have to. Of course Giovanni insists on going next time. Somehow I think it might be worse to leave him than to take him along, don't you?"

"I expect you're right."

"We'll use the doctor again."

too, if it's all right with you."

"Oh, certainly. He's wonderful—the old doctor. What I wanted to tell you as soon as I had asked about Gigi was that I have had a reply this morning from Naples. I communicated with them last night and requested another attempt, as soon as possible, on the same beach."

"On the same beach?"

"I admit it sounds sort of crazy at first. But I thought it over, and it seems to me that if there's any bit of coast that is going to be less watched than another after the affair the other night, it will be that very beach at Ladispoli. The Germans logically think it's too hot for us there."

"Maybe you're right. Germans are always logical. Did Naples agree?"

"Oddly enough, yes. And for the same hour on the 27th."

"How's the fat old guide?"

"He's fine. I saw him last week. Poor old thing, he's more worried about feeding his family than anything else at the moment. What would you think of our taking him next landing? What frightens me is not so much the sort of thing that happened on the beach last time—a stray patrol. That we can guard against this time—"

"Yes, with two of us standing

Soup For September Meals

Lovely September days... ideal from morn 'til night... are perfect days for soup and sandwich meals. Whether it's lunch or supper time, a hot soup and a sandwich make tempting fare on these "I-feel-like-doing-something" days... the last trip to the lake or swimming pool, shopping for back-to-school clothes, etc.

Canned condensed soups on your pantry shelf mean nutritious, satisfying meals on your table in short order. Bright and colorful as this delightful season is, canned vegetable soup... an array of fifteen sun-ripened garden vegetables in a rich beef and vegetable broth. Prepare it with part V-8 juice and part water for a rosy good combination. Everyone will enjoy it, in fact each will come back for seconds.

For a well-balanced meal with vegetable soup include a tuna salad sandwich on a long, soft roll and crispy potato chips. Dessert... chilled canned fruit, perhaps, peach halves filled with currant jelly. Serve milk to the young ones, coffee or tea to adults.

ROSY VEGETABLE SOUP

1 can (10 3/4 ounces)
1 condensed vegetable soup
1/2 soup can V-8
1/2 soup can water

Combine soup, V-8 and water in saucepan. Heat. Makes 2 to 3 servings.
